

U N	Goal	10. Reduce inequality within and among countries
	Target	10.6 Ensure enhanced representation and voice for developing countries in decision-making in global international economic and financial institutions in order to deliver more effective, credible, accountable and legitimate institutions
	Indicator	10.6.1 Proportion of members and voting rights of developing countries in international organizations

I. Global indicator

<Type 2>

Indicator	Proportion of members and voting rights of developing countries in international organizations
Definition	The developing country proportion of voting rights and the developing country proportion of membership in international organisations. In some institutions these two components are identical. The indicator is calculated independently for eleven different international institutions: The United Nations General Assembly, the United Nations Security Council, the United Nations Economic and Social Council, the International Monetary Fund, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the International Finance Corporation, the African Development Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, the World Trade Organisation, and the Financial Stability Board. The aggregation across all institutions is currently done according to the United Nations M.49 statistical standard which includes designation of "developed regions."

II. Data description

[Data ①] The proportion of developing countries in international organizations

Calculation method	$\frac{\text{No. of developing countries that are members in an international organization}}{\text{No. of all member countries in that international organization}} \times 100$
Unit	Percent (%)
Data sources	International organizations count the number of developing country members and submit the data to UN-DESA.
Calendar	■ Time series: 2000, 2005, 2010, 2014-2019(Data for Korea is included) ■ Data release: It is different for each United Nation's organizations
Organizations	UN-DESA(United Nations-Department of Economic and Social Affairs)

[Data ②] Proportion of voting rights of developing countries in international organizations

Calculation method	$\frac{\text{No. of developing countries with voting rights}}{\text{No. of all member countries in that international organization}} \times 100$
Unit	Percent (%)
Data sources	International organizations count the number of developing country members and submit the data to UN-DESA.
Calendar	■ Time series: 2000, 2005, 2010, 2014-2019(Data for Korea is included) ■ Data release: It is different for each United Nation's organizations
Organizations	UN-DESA(United Nations-Department of Economic and Social Affairs)

Global indicator link	■ Metadata: https://unstats.un.org/sdgs/metadata/files/Metadata-10-06-01.pdf ■ Data: https://unstats.un.org/sdgs/indicators/database/
------------------------------	--